

$25,000 for Best Plan to Repeal 18th Amendment

Hearst Makes Offer Believing Prohibition Cannot be Enforced—Says People Do Not Want to be Ruled by Liquor Interests or Bone-Dry Fanatics.

New York, Jan. 2 (AP).—W. R. Hearst, through his newspapers today, offered a prize of $25,000 for the best plan to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and substitute a more liberal and more American measure.

Hearst's offer was contained in a telegram to Edwin J. Clapp, and published by his papers. Clapp, formerly with the Hearst papers, is now connected with Duran Motors. W. C. Durant recently offered a $25,000 prize for the best plan to enforce prohibition. The prize was won by Major Chester P. Mills.

Hearst's telegram was in answer to one from Clapp requesting the publisher's views on "Education vs. Force in Getting the Eighteenth Amendment Obeyed", and also asking for a talk about "this problem of law observance as a necessary part of the return of the country to a law-abiding state."

In his telegram, Hearst said he does not believe that prohibition ever will or ever can be enforced. He believes that, if a violent effort is made to enforce it during the next four years by the Republican administration, the next President of the United States will be a Democrat.

The presidential candidacy of Governor Smith, he said, proved nothing except that the people do not want Smith and he said the personal liberty issue would not have won the campaign with any candidate.

Hearst declared the people do not want to be ruled by the liquor interests, nor by the bone-dry fanatics. He said prohibition has been repudiated by every country which has ever tried it and he considers the Eighteenth Amendment not only the most flagrant violation of the basic American principle of personal liberty but the most complete failure as a temperance measure that has ever been conceived and put in "impractical operation."

WOMEN PRAISE CAMPAIGN AGAINST SPEAKEASIES

New York, Jan. 2 (AP).—An average of 500 letters a day is being received by Police Commissioner Whelan from women in commendation of his campaign against speakeasies, it was learned today.

Most of the letters, it was said at police headquarters, are from mothers, wives and daughters of men who have been spending the entire family funds for liquor. Many of the letters make definite charges against various places, including gambling houses and dance halls as well as speakeasies.

Commissioner Whelan, after reading a number of the letters, turned them over to Chief Inspector O'Brien with the admonition: "Get after every one of these places. I want to make this city a decent place in which to live."

ALBANY MEDICAL COLLEGE GETS $15,000 FROM G. E.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP).—An annual grant of $15,000 to Albany Medical College, the medical department of Union University, by the General Electric Company, was announced today by Dr. Thomas Ordway, dean of the college.

Dr. Charles M. Carpenter, formerly of the Cornell University faculty, has been appointed a research fellow on the staff of Albany Medical College under the grant. He will work in cooperation with the company's physicists.

One of the first problems to be considered, according to Dean Ordway, will be the effects of radio high-frequency waves with special reference to possibilities of beneficial effects in the treatment of certain diseases such as undulant fever and tuberculosis.

ONTARIO TRIES TO PREVENT BOOTLEG SHIPMENTS

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 2 (AP).—Crafts of the Detroit river fleet will concentrate at 10 docks for loading beginning today, instead of at more than 50 as heretofore.

A new customs order, which became effective yesterday, limited export to the ten docks with the hope of reducing the quantity of liquor turned back into the province for bootleg sale from shipments started ostensibly for export.

The 10 docks will each be manned by a customs official to furnish the necessary papers. There was no exporting yesterday as customs officials were not on duty to give clearances to the boats.

Friends Welcome Thomas. Herbert E. Thomas, the newly elected county treasurer, being the only new county official, was welcomed by many of his friends Tuesday at his office in the court house and best wishes were extended him by all.

Cigar Factory Reopens Jan. 9. The American Cigar Company's factory on Broadway, which closed during the holiday season, will open on Wednesday, January 9.

Vote on Peace Pact Sin Unrelated to Before Naval Bill

Advocates of Kellogg Treaty Eager To Push It To Vote Ahead of Companion Measure in Senate—Held to Fight Against Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP).—Proponents of the Kellogg peace treaty were in a position on the eve of the reconvening of the Senate to push the pact to a vote ahead of its companion measure on the calendar, the naval construction bill.

So confident were the treaty advocates that an agreement is being sought by Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee which would specify that the treaty be disposed of ahead of the cruiser measure.

Whether Chairman Hale of the naval committee consents to the agreement whereby his naval construction bill would be brought up after the treaty appeared to be immaterial, for the treaty advocates have the votes to go ahead.

An agreement, however, would serve to assure a vote on the naval measure. Realizing that Senator Borah has the strength to press the treaty to an early vote, Senate leaders have given tacit consent to placing it ahead and in return have received some assurances from opponents of the naval bill that this measure will be allowed to come to a vote.

If an agreement goes through, votes would be definitely assured on both the treaty and the naval bill, and predictions have been made that such an agreement would lead to dispositions within two weeks.

Prior to the Christmas recess the Senate agreed to make the naval bill the unfinished business and the treaty the unfinished executive business. This will automatically bring the naval bill to the Senate tomorrow at 2 o'clock. At any rate, however, treaty advocates can move to go into executive session for consideration of the peace pact. With a majority vote they will be able to keep the treaty constantly before the Senate.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, will wage a fight against the treaty. He will gain some support from Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, who is asking adoption of an interpretative resolution stating America's reservations in ratifying the pact.

However, Senate leaders believe they could force an early vote with strength enough to use the Cloture rule limiting debate, if necessary.

A more serious threat impends against the bill to construct 15 new cruisers with Republican independent under the leadership of Senator Norris of Nebraska opposing it. However, it is believed that if the treaty is allowed to go to a vote they will not filibuster.

Attempts will be made to modify the naval bill to provide for only five or ten cruisers. The request of President Coolidge for elimination of the clause requiring construction of the vessels within three years will get support only from opponents of the bill. Chairman Hale will oppose elimination of the time clause.

Science Meet About His Cabinet

No Conflict Between Science and Religion, Says President of Science Association Who Deplores Paper Head by Prof. Barnes.

New York, Jan. 2 (AP).—Philosophical discussions of sin and religion have no legitimate place in the forum of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, in the opinion of Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, its president.

His statement was aimed at a paper on "science versus religion as a guide to life," read before a section meeting of members interested in the medical sciences and the history of science by Prof. Henry E. Barnes of Smith College.

"This is a scientific meeting," Dr. Osborn declared, "and science has to do with what can be understood by weighing, measuring and analysis of the universe, and it covers the whole realm of what can be estimated and understood. It stops there."

The Barnes paper declared that science had relegated sin into "the limbo of ancient superstitions" and called for a new order based on the discoveries of science in place of the old theological dogma, and recognizing the "right to be happy." He specifically mentioned "Fundamentalist Christian" doctrine and "Christian Solomity." His statements aroused immediate and frequently heated response from the clergy of various denominations.

Osborn, presiding at the general sessions last night, described the paper as "sensational" and "non-scientific" and said it might give the impression that the association did not believe in providence.

The function of the association, he declared, was to carry the public into new realms of knowledge gained in the pursuit of the different branches of science, and to bring scientists working in each field into the realms opened up by workers in other fields.

He did not allude further to the Barnes paper during the meeting, but afterward gave his views in more extended form to the press.

"Dr. Barnes," he declared, "took an unwarranted step in introducing a metaphysical, philosophical and religious subject. It was an unwarranted intrusion. He took advantage of this great platform of the American Association for the advancement of science to give expression to his own opinion on a subject that was totally unrelated to the subjects under discussion."

Gives Wrong Impression of Meeting. "As president I desire to have the public understand that Dr. Barnes' statements do not reflect in any way the program of our meeting. They were calculated to give a wrong impression."

"If they had been a philosophical, theological or religious group, it would have been appropriate. We have been very desirous of requesting the clergy to relieve the public's mind of belief that there is any conflict between science and religion. There is none. There can be none. Some of the greatest men of science have been very religious."

ASTRONOMER'S IDEA OF LIMIT SET TO SPACE

New York, Jan. 2 (AP).—An inkling of an astronomer's idea of the possible extent of the limit set to space by the Einstein theory was given by Dr. Harlow Shapley of Harvard last night in his lecture at the closing session of the American Association for the advancement of Science.

Referring to the distant nebula reported to the association last week from Mount Wilson observatory as traveling 2,500 miles per second, he said it seemed to bear out the Einstein concept and added:

"We must remember that this object is but a fraction of one per cent but toward that boundary that Einstein indicates. The measurement of the speed of this nebula gives us an indication that space and time are so arranged that we have an effect of velocity, and indication of a remarkable kind of universe."

TUNNEY'S MENTOR POLICE HEAD AT POUGHKEEPSIE

William A. McCabe, former confidential adviser to Gene Tunney, was appointed police commissioner of Poughkeepsie for a three-year term on Tuesday by Mayor John K. Sague. The appointment fills the vacancy on the police board caused by the retirement of Frank G. Cunley, whose term expired Monday.

M McCabe, who is 64 years old, is known as the man who first detected championship possibilities in Gene Tunney. He was chief of police in Poughkeepsie almost 40 years ago. He has served on the State Prison Commission and as a special investigator at Sing Sing Prison.

Benedictine Auxiliary Meeting. The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital will be held in the nurses' home Thursday, January 3, at 2:30 p. m. It is hoped that every member will make a special effort to attend. Tea will be served from 3:30 to 5 p. m.

Amulance Calls Here. The city ambulance on Tuesday removed Mrs. Clarence Tease from the Kingston Hospital to 75 East Strand, and Sarah Hasbrouck from 49 St. James street to the Benedictine Hospital.

Hoover to Confer State Legislature In First Session

Senate Re-elects Knight Temporary President—Democrats Choose Downing as Minority Leader—McGuire Speaker of Assembly.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP).—The New York Legislature opened its 1929 session at 12:05 p. m. today when Lieutenant Governor Herbert Lehman called the Senate to order.

Speaker Joseph A. McGuire, called for order in the Assembly a few minutes later.

The Rev. Richard H. Nelson, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Albany, was the chaplain at the Senate's initial session.

At the conclusion of the invocation, Lieutenant Governor Lehman addressed the Senate briefly, promising that he would be impartial as a presiding officer and asking for the confidence and cooperation of the members.

The Senate then proceeded with the business of organization. Senator John Knight, Republican, of Wyoming, was re-elected temporary president, the official title of the majority leader. Senator Bernard Downing of New York was chosen by his party colleagues as the leader of the Democratic minority.

A Miner Wellman of Caledonia was elected clerk, succeeding Ernest A. Fay of Potsdam, resigned. Mr. Fay had been elected to the Senate desk for 38 years, 12 years as clerk, Charles E. Hotelling of Albany was re-elected sergeant-at-arms.

In the Assembly, The Rev. Creighton R. Storey, an Episcopal clergyman of this city, was the chaplain in the assembly. After several new members of the house had been sworn in, the assembly proceeded with its organization.

Joseph A. McGuire, Republican, of Chautauque, was re-elected speaker, and Assemblyman Maurice Bloch of New York, Democrat, candidate for speaker, automatically became minority leader, a post he has occupied for several years. Assemblyman Russell C. Dunmore, Republican, of Oneida, was reappointed majority floor leader by the speaker. Fred W. Hammond of Onondaga was re-elected clerk, and Harry W. Haines of Westchester was chosen for another term as sergeant-at-arms.

Both Houses Notify Governor. After organization had been completed in both houses, each chamber notified the other house, as well as the governor, that it was ready to proceed with the business of the session.

With all the routine formalities out of the way, both Houses met in joint session in the Assembly chamber, with the lieutenant governor presiding. As Mr. Lehman called for order, the door leading to the speaker's office opened, and Governor Roosevelt emerged, leaning on the arm of his secretary, Guernsey T. Cross.

A temporary ramp had been constructed from the speaker's room to the rostrum in order that the Governor might more easily reach the speaker's stand. As Mr. Roosevelt appeared everyone in the chamber rose, and there was a burst of applause, lasting for a minute or two.

At 1:13 p. m. the Governor began reading his message to the Legislature.

TEX RICKARD UNDERGOES APPENDICITIS OPERATION

Miami, Fla., Jan. 2 (AP).—Tex Rickard was doing nicely today after an operation for appendicitis.

The Madison Square Garden manager underwent the operation in a hospital last night while 15,000 spectators were yelling their approval of his new $250,000 greyhound racing plant at his Miami Beach premiere.

Attending physicians said it would be 10 days, however, before the promoter would be able to see his latest project in operation.

Tex did not prove as accurate in judging his physical ailments as he often has in predicting game receipts. What he thought was a slight attack of indigestion proved to be acute appendicitis.

The operation was performed early last night.

WEBB INTRODUCES FIRST BILL IN SENATE

Albany, Jan. 2 (AP).—For the second consecutive year, Senator J. Grisswold Webb, Republican, of Dutchess, has the distinction of being sponsor of the first bill introduced at the legislative session.

Senator Webb's certain raise this year is a measure designed to amend the general municipal law so as to permit two cities or two villages in the same county to acquire jointly land for airport or aircraft landing places and to construct, maintain and operate municipal landing fields.

ARTHUR WASHINGTON WAS LAST AND ALSO FIRST

Arthur Washington, a negro, was the last prisoner arrested in 1928, and today he was the first prisoner to face Judge Shufeldt in 1929, when he was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct on West Strand, Washington was the job of bringing laborers from Philadelphia to the Gibson contracting job. Monday evening he stopped at 15 West Strand and, according to Sergeant Phinney, had a drink and when he woke up he claimed he had been robbed of $100. The racket he made over his loss led to his being arrested. This morning Judge Shufeldt discharged Washington.

ARMY AND POLITICAL BRANCH IN NEW WIGWAM

New York, Jan. 2 (AP).—The Tammany Society and its political branch, the Democratic County Committee, today were established in their new wigwam, a three-story building of colonial design in Union Square. The new hall is the ninth in the 142 years of the society's existence.

The society last summer sold its former home in Fourteenth street, which it had occupied since 1868.

State Senators Kept Marching

Seats Not Provided For Them at Roosevelt Inaugural So They Did Not Pause Upon Reaching Platform—Gov. Roosevelt Announces Appointments.

Albany, Jan. 2 (AP).—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today took up the reins of government of New York state, a government described by its predecessor, Alfred E. Smith, as "not perfect, but a human institution reaching perfection—but as good as it can be."

Sworn into office at noon yesterday, Governor Roosevelt told the people of the state in his inaugural address that he wanted their cooperation in working out the problems confronting the state's executive and other officers.

The matter of waterpower, a controversy involving the major political parties of the state and in which the figure of former Governor Smith loomed large, was mentioned as one of the problems of simplification of court procedure and improvement in the economic condition of the farmer, and demand attention, the governor said.

Figures prominent in both the Democratic and Republican parties crowded the assembly chamber to hear the secretary of state administer the oath, the governor's address and the combination introduction and farewell of the former governor, who four times before had taken the oath of office.

The members of the state senate had a fleeting glimpse of the inauguration. With the sergeant at arms at the head of the column, the fifty-one senators filed down the center aisle of the chamber and onto the platform. Someone had overlooked the details of providing seats for them, so, without pause, they continued on through a rear door and out of the chamber.

Appellate Division Appointments. One of the governor's first official acts after taking office yesterday was the formal announcement of three members of his cabinet and of the appointment of six judges to the appellate division of the supreme court.

The formal announcements were: Edward J. Flynn, New York, secretary of state; Albert Conway, Brooklyn, superintendent of insurance; Guernsey T. Cross, Callicoon, secretary and assistant to the governor.

The judges were: First department, Edgar S. K. Merrill, Lewis county, redesignated. Second department, Adolph P. Rich, Cayuga county, redesignated. Fourth department, Charles B. Sears, Erie county, designated to preside to fill the vacancy caused by the election of Irving G. Hubbs to the court of appeals.

Ernest I. Edgcomb, Onondaga county, designated in place of Sears. Robert F. Thompson, Ontario county, designated in place of William W. Clark.

Harley N. Crosby, Chautauque county, temporarily designated to expedite disposition of court business.

Question Three In Kidnaping Case

Four Year Old Boy Disappeared Last Thursday Is Thought to Have Been Taken by Kidnappers Who Mistook Him for Neighbor's Child.

Orrville, Ohio, Jan. 2 (AP).—Three Orrville men were locked up early today in connection with the supposed kidnaping of Melvin Horst, 4, who disappeared from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horst of Orrville, late last Thursday. They were questioned for more than six hours and County Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey said formal charges of kidnaping would be filed against them before noon.

After the suspects were arrested Deputy Sheriff Lee Pontias and a special detective left in an automobile on a mysterious 166-mile trip. They are expected to return at noon with additional evidence.

It is understood Columbus was their destination and it was believed they were taking a woman there in an attempt to have her identified by a Columbus woman as the person who was seen on a street car in Columbus Saturday night with a boy who resembled the missing Orrville lad.

Mougey said the three suspects denied any connection with the supposed kidnaping. He added, however, that they told conflicting stories relative to their movements on the night the boy disappeared.

Melvin was last seen late Thursday when he was with a chum with whom he had been playing and that he had been home for supper, and left pulling the little red wagon in which he had been giving his playmate a ride. His parents became alarmed soon afterward when he failed to appear and a search started. The wagon was found on the edge of the yard.

Authorities believed that if Melvin was kidnapped it was either for revenge or that he was mistaken for a neighbor's boy. Melvin's father is a laborer while the father of the other boy, who is the same age of Melvin and looks very much like him, is said to be wealthy.

Hoy Horst, city marshal, is an uncle of the missing boy and it is thought that his activities against alleged bootleggers may have had something to do with Melvin's disappearance.

Roosevelt Asks Non-Partisanship For His Programs

Does Not Mention Policy of Smith by Name, But Statement is Taken to Refer to Smith Programs Which He Promised to Carry Forward.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP).—Former Franklin D. Roosevelt in his first message to the New York Legislature, today, asked for non-partisan attitude toward his proposed programs and asked that "two great enemies of progress," the "blighting dread of following in the rear guard of another's triumphal procession along the road to better government."

"Too often in the past," he said, "such an attitude has prevented any progress whatsoever."

"It is of small moment who first points out that road," he continued. "The important thing is, having once seen the proper course that we should turn towards it, fight for its adoption and march shoulder to shoulder with the others toward the goal."

He did not mention by name former Governor Alfred E. Smith, whom he succeeded, but his statement was taken to refer to the Smith programs which, in his campaign, Mr. Roosevelt promised to carry forward. As was the case with Governor Smith, during his four terms, the legislature now in session has a Republican majority, with naturally, its own program.

In his message Mr. Roosevelt discussed state finances, agriculture, water power, parks, grade crossings, public works, highways, canals, aviation, the four year term for governor, county and town governments, labor, health, aid for the crippled, education, judicial reform and modernization of inheritance laws.

Farm Relief and Water Power. Mr. Roosevelt called for immediate action on agricultural relief and water power, two of the issues he stressed in his successful campaign. He said he hoped that the commission he would appoint to study the farm problem would be able to deliver a report which would receive favorable action from the legislature.

"The ultimate goal is that the farmer and his family shall be put on the same level of earning capacity as his fellow American who lives in the city," he said.

"On the subject of the development of water power sites, owned in part or in whole by the people of the state, I am convinced of two facts: First, that there is a definite demand for the undertaking of their development; second, that this title and constant control of power generated at the sources shall remain definitely in the people and shall not be alienated by long term leases. This is one of those questions on which I hope we can reach an agreement."

"The development of our state-wide park and parkway system has, I think, ceased to be a matter of political controversy and will, I am confident, go forward with your assistance."

State Highway Program. "It seems almost unnecessary for me to stress the necessity for the continuation of the present large program of highway construction and reconstruction, the building as rapidly as possible of new roads and the rebuilding of old roads, now worn out or inadequate to meet modern traffic requirements."

"As both major parties have in their platform recommended the whole cost of maintaining state and county highways should be borne by the state, the provision of the law requiring towns to contribute $50 a mile for this upkeep should be repealed. This will add about $900,000 next year to the state's expense."

"The last few years have shown greater justification for the maintenance and operation of the large canal, and in view of this it is incumbent on us to continue its operation at the highest possible efficiency."

Four Year Term for Governor. He called for a resubmission to the people of the question of a four year term for governor.

"I can see no reason for being anything but frank with you in regard to the business efficiency of our system of town and county government," he continued, "in recent years our system of state government has been brought to a high level of efficiency. Why should any of us pretend any longer that our county and town governments do not require the same kind of overhauling which we have given to the affairs of the state? Even the school children know that we maintain many useless offices in our towns, that many functions now exercised by town officials should be assumed by county management, that there is an almost complete lack of budgeting, that there is an equal lack of proper auditing, and, in the final analysis, that the average taxpayer does not know why or where his tax money is being spent. It would be a fine thing if you and I, laying politics and partisanship aside, could take definite steps at this session of the legislature toward this reform, which everybody knows is so vitally necessary."

LABOR LEGISLATION RECOMMENDED. He recommended the following program for labor legislation: "1. A real eight-hour day and

State Insurance Fund Figures

Albany, Jan. 2.—In 1928 the New York State Insurance Fund for workmen's compensation paid over $10,000,000 in dividends to policyholders.

It saved employers more than $2,000,000 by discounts and dividends. It brought the total savings to employers in the last 15 years to more than $10,000,000.

Wrote premiums of more than $2,000,000 at a reduction of 15 per cent in rates. At full rates the total would have exceeded $3,000,000.

Brought its assets to more than $10,000,000 while paying 15 per cent dividends and writing insurance at a reduction of 15 per cent in rates.

Furnished 20,000 policyholders with more than $20,000 employees, the benefits of its insurance, including accident prevention, claims and medical service.

Increased greatly its facilities for aiding injured workers and returning them to gainful employment in the shortest possible time.

Industrial Commissioner James A. Hamilton Tuesday set forth these facts as some of the outstanding accomplishments of the State Fund during the last 12 months. He declared the success of the fund proved its large measure of service to employers, workers, and the general public of New York state.

"These figures of operating success," Commissioner Hamilton said, "while they are definite evidence of efficient management, do not picture adequately the many humanitarian benefits the fund gives. A constantly increasing number of employers know the financial and other advantages the fund offers, but the public at large, and workers in industry especially, should be more intimately acquainted with the benefits the State Fund holds for them. I feel that it is my duty to make known as widely as possible all these phases of the fund's work."

"The fund's cooperation with employers in accident prevention more and more is safeguarding workers from injuries and their attendant misery and loss. The experience records show vividly how employers using this service have reduced their accidents."

"If workers are killed or injured, payment of prompt and just compensation is made through the claims service of the State Fund, operating in fairness to both employer and worker."

"Injured workers are being brought back to wage-earning as quickly as is humanly possible through the State Fund medical service. Cripples are being rehabilitated constantly."

"This work, in addition to its humanitarian benefits, represents direct financial gain to the workers of the state and to the public, which always has to pay its share of economic loss. It binds employer and employee together in a mutually helpful spirit of good will."

"The low cost to the employer of insurance in the State Fund is a material factor in keeping down production costs, and therefore of value to the public as well as to the employer."

"All these benefits expand with the increasing success of the State Fund."

1928 Lynchings
Show Decrease

To the editor of The Freeman:

I send you the following concerning lynchings for the past year as compiled by Tuskegee Institute in the Department of Records and Research. I had there were 9 persons lynched in 1928. This is 7 less than the number 16 for 1927, 21 less than the number 30 for 1926, 6 less than the number 17 for 1925 and 7 less than the number 16 for 1924. Six of the persons lynched were taken from the hands of the law, one from jail and 2 from officers of the law outside of jail.

There were 34 instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings. 3 of these were in northern states and 21 in southern states. In 20 of the cases the prisoners were removed or the guards augmented or other precautions taken. In 1 other instance, armed force was used to repel the would be lynchers. 14 white men, 1 white woman and 25 negro men were thus saved from death at the hands of mobs.

Of the 9 persons lynched 5 were negroes and 4 white. (Mexican). The offenses charged were: murder, 2; rape, 2; wounding men in altercation, 2; killing officers of the law, 2.

The states in which lynchings occurred and the number in each state are as follows: Louisiana, 2; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 1; New Mexico, 1; Texas, 2.

Yours very truly,
P. R. MOTON,
Principal.

NEW TARIFF WILL PROTECT NEW YORK ONION GROWERS

President Coolidge has approved a recommendation of the United States Tariff Commission to increase the duty on onions from one cent a pound to one and one half cents a pound. The new duty will be effective thirty days after December 22, the date of the President's approval. For some time the farmers of New York state have sent in requests to the New York State Farm Bureau Federation for assistance in securing an increased duty on onions. Their requests were forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation, where considerable effort was spent in securing data and information on this subject. The duty was discussed in Washington, with representatives of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation and the College of Agriculture present.

The new duty will benefit farmers of New York, Indiana, Ohio, Massachusetts, California, Texas, who are now suffering from foreign competition.

The person who has complete control of his own conduct doesn't try to control that of others.

River Is Open To Navigation

The Hudson river is still open to navigation and the Central Hudson Line steamers are making daily trips between this port and New York city. There was a little floating ice in the river and the Rondout creek this morning, caused by the freezing weather of Tuesday night. The Central Hudson Line is planning to operate its boats all winter if ice conditions permit. The towing season is about closed although a few boats are still being operated. The greater part of the fleet of the Cornell Line is now laid up for the winter.

ALTAMONT INVALED DIES FROM EXPOSURE AND SMOKE

Altamont, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP).—Elmer Severson, 68-year-old invalid, of this village, died on New Year's Eve from exposure and the effect of smoke inhaled when fire destroyed the dwelling in which he lived with his wife, their daughter, Mrs. Frederick Schable, and her husband.

Severson was rescued from the burning building by the Rev. Roscoe M. Giles, pastor of the Altamont Reformed Church, and Benjamin Schable, brother of Frederick Schable. The two men tied wet handkerchiefs over their noses and mouths and climbed through a bedroom window. Firemen aided them in carrying the invalid from the building. He died a short time later at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Van Valkenburg.

Mrs. Schable and three children, all convalescing after grip, were carried from the building to the home of her brother, Walter Schable, and today were reported recovering.

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 2 (AP).—One man was killed here and two others were hurt, one seriously, early today when their automobile sideswiped another machine and overturned. Orlando Banush, of this city, was dead when extricated from the wreckage of the car. Richard Banush, a relative of the dead man, and one of the proprietors of the Hollinger Hotel, was injured seriously and John Trombino was slightly hurt.

CHILDREN ENJOYED FIRST SLEDGING OF WINTER.

The snow storm of Tuesday morning was followed by a fall of rain which changed the snow into slush and water, making walking very disagreeable. During the night the temperature began dropping and as a result the streets and walks were a glare of ice this morning. That fact was welcomed by the children, at least, for it afforded them the first opportunity this winter to get out their sleds and enjoy coasting.

FLEET STARTS FOR WINTER MANEUVERS

New London, Conn., Jan. 2 (AP).—Three divisions of the Navy Control Force under Rear Admiral Frank R. The fleet will be gone about three months.

ENOUGH VOTES ASSURED TO REMOVE GEN. BOOTH

London, Jan. 2 (AP).—Evangeline Booth's headquarters said today that a sufficient number of votes in the high council had been assured to remove General Bramwell Booth as commander-in-chief and effect a reorganization of the Salvation Army.

It was asserted that more than the necessary three-fourths of the high councilors would follow the program of the American commander.

Gilbert Confident Germany Is Sound

Berlin, Jan. 2 (AP).—Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations, expresses confidence in Germany's economic soundness in his report for the fourth reparations annuity year.

"The most encouraging feature for the whole year from the standpoint of public finances," he says, "is the great productivity of revenues notwithstanding important reductions in taxation."

In regard to payments for the current annuity year, the report forecasts that "no question can fairly arise, in the light of practical experience thus far, as to the ability of the Reich to provide the full amount of its standard contribution to the plan."

Criticism is made of German budgetary practices, however, in a paragraph saying:

"The current budget of the Reich gives evidence of some effort to curb the tendency toward rising expenditures, but many new demands are being made in the budgets and the indications are that new taxes will have to be imposed unless expenditures can be compressed to a considerably greater extent. Moreover, the financial settlement with the states and communes which comes into effect on a basis which automatically deprives the Reich of the benefit of most of the year-to-year growth in some of its principal revenues. It also gives increasing transfers to states and communes without reference to their needs. The principal states are receiving larger revenues than ever before but their expenditures are steadily rising and they are still voting budgets which anticipate current deficits."

Coolidges Speed To Washington

En Route with President Coolidge to Washington, Jan. 2 (AP).—Leaving behind him the soft breezes and mild atmosphere of Georgia's semi-tropical islands, President Coolidge sped northward today, bound for Washington and a resumption of his duties as chief executive of the nation.

With Mrs. Coolidge and his official party, the President last night boarded a special train on the Atlantic Coast Line at Brunswick, Ga., after a cruise by yacht from Sapelo Island, where for six days he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Coffin.

Just at dusk the Coffin yacht Zapala docked at the Sea Island Yacht Club on St. Simon's Island. Dinner was served on board and then Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge took leave of their hosts and covered the remaining few miles to Brunswick by automobile.

Although today was Mrs. Coolidge's birthday, no particular observance was planned before reaching Washington.

PRISONER SAYS WAY OUT OF CELL BUT IS CAPTURED.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 2 (AP).—Steve Ream, held here for the theft of jewelry in a New York hotel, saved his way out of a police cell here today but was captured before he could get away. The escape was frustrated by a policeman who saw the prisoner walking toward a door leading into the street.

Ream and his wife have been held here since their arrest—for stealing jewelry from the hotel room of Madame Marie Rappold in New York. Ream occupied a cell on an upper tier and is believed to have secured a saw belonging to some workmen installing additional cells in the Central City station house.

MILLIONAIRES' DEATHS GIVE TREASURY RELIEF.

London, Jan. 2 (AP).—The unusually heavy mortality among British millionaires last year provided considerable relief to the exchequer. Death duties in 1927 produced $150,000,000, whereas $300,000,000 was yielded in the last nine months of 1928.

The estate of Sir George Willis, tobacco magnate, was probated at $50,000,000 and yielded to the treasury $20,000,000 duty. This with nine other large estates paid nearly $50,000,000 in taxation.

16 INJURED WHEN BUS CRASHES INTO BRIDGE.

El Reno, Okla., Jan. 2 (AP).—Sixteen persons were injured, five seriously, when a stage line bus crashed into a concrete bridge early today while en route from Oklahoma City to El Reno.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

There are all sorts of dresses up-portioned out to us in the day's work: sports frocks, breakfast frocks, riding wear, afternoon frocks, evening frocks. But Dame Fashion decides there is room for still another kind of dress, and if you think the suggestion is old-fashioned—well, so much the worse for you.

Grace J. Austin. It was brought to mind by reading the sentence, "A room with an open hearth is a room with hospitality." So the idea came at once, why not Swedish gowns? They would not be at all on the order of homespun or seagulls, for hospitality implies a readiness to receive guests, but certainly a dress is needed, on the other hand, not of the so-called "afternoon" or "evening" type. The American woman has been accused of never staying at home. Would it not be delightful to astonish Paris by sending word that there is a distinct call from the United States for a type of gown of unusual charm, and perhaps modernistic contrasts in colors and figures, to be used by feminine Americans for fireside wearing?

The more Dame Fashion thinks of that word "modernistic" in this connection, the more suggestive it seems. A woman might sit near the fireplace across from her husband and perhaps a friend or two and delight their eyes by a gown of all vivid triangles and daring designs, which at breakfast time would undoubtedly have caused those viewing it to growl, "nightmare!" Gar effects impossible for street or sports would be wholly proper.

As Dame Fashion writes this she herself is sitting in front of a soft coal grate fire, burning in a fireplace bordered by blue Dutch tiles—or maybe French, for they have a fleur-de-lis design. At any rate, she has to smile at herself, as a preacher who did not practice, for many a night she has placed herself close to those blue tiles in a green dress whose clashing must have brought shudders to the fireside divinites.

Last summer there was scenery on some of our silk crepe dresses, and if we couldn't fill the car with gas and start for the Grand Canyon or Yosemite, we could put on gowns that brought those places to us in printed designs. This winter there are Mardi Gras printed crepes that seem to be made just from yards of joy, and would be wonderful for this fireside use. Think what a heritage it would be to a child to remember evenings when he crawled up into mother's lap by the fire and studied out pretty things printed on her gown. From some of these prints one could weave half a dozen stories about the lovers rowing in boats, the mandolin players and the strange, haunting little faces here and there.

Every phase of life gets reflected in fashion sooner or later. Directly after the war, when war doings had excused almost anything, girls and women scamped about everywhere except to church, wearing knickers. But in the last year or two some invisible fashion power seems to have whispered, "No knickers except for camping or sports where they are imperative." Where were the women last summer in knickers on the golf courses? Gone! A large country club where they were formerly much worn, reporting for last season, said that not one woman appeared in knickers. Well, so much the more indication that "fireside frocks" will be appreciated.

Short Jacket Welcomed by All Who Like Freedom

The short jacket has staged a comeback. It is particularly welcomed by those who like a certain amount of freedom in walking and fits in well with the modern tendency towards sports and sport simplicity. A number of the French designers have shown jackets in their collections; among them Moyness, who designs one in broadtail fabric, not fur. This is worn over a dress of black wool crepe.

THE SOUTHERN WRAP RIPPLES ITS LISSOME WAY INTO VOUE.

New York.—A deviation from the pencil silhouette is reported whenever smart women have occasion to appear either in coats or wraps. All southern wardrobes contain something spectacular by way of an evening ing wrap. Many of them are inclined toward cape lines, although some are a compromise between cape and coat rather than definitely one or the other.

One expects that there will be a continuation of wavering lines achieved by the addition of godets or some panels or rippling effect, all contributing to a delightful animated silhouette. Collars for southern wear are minimized in the majority of cases and are inclined to scarf effects or straight fur or fabric bands which have a way of being sufficient unto themselves, since they supply their own fastening, usually in the form of a bow.

The fashionable pelts, beginning with white fox, include ermine (both white and of the summer variety), natural fish, foxes dyed every conceivable hue, and for less formal wear leopard and gyalak. Cushion collars of fur, with elongated ends are another fancy, the general feeling being that they must be either high or narrow.

When an evening wrap has sleeves, they are inclined toward elaborate and ample lines.

IDAHO ONION GROWERS HAVE FAVORABLE YEAR

Boise, Ida., (A).—A thousand dollars an acre was the estimated profit on nearly 450 acres of land near Boise which was planted to onions this year.

The land is situated on Eagle Island in the Boise river. The combination of favorable yield with unusually good market prices has brought the industry one of its most profitable seasons.

One grower who had four acres harvested slightly more than a thousand 100-pound sacks to the acre and sold his produce at $2.50 a sack.

The onions, marketed cooperatively, grow to enormous sizes, some approaching six inches in diameter. Several shipments consisted entirely of onions averaging five inches.

Chicago, (A).—Quadrilles and Virginia rees of the gay nineties still hold sway in the Viking Temple ball room on Chicago's south side.

Three hundred middle-aged couples, unwilling wallflowers in a jazz age, have formed an Old Time Dance Club. They regularly sponsor dances to the tunes of "Turkey in the Straw," "O'Rafferty's Jig," "Connelly's Ale," and other popular hits in two-step days.

"If you didn't wiggle just as your partner expected you were considered a social outcast," said Ira J. Kunze, founder and president of the club, in voicing his objections to fox trot dances.

Long waist sections fit the figure closely and form a panel over the center of the front. Flare skirt sections lengthen the dress and join the waist in curved outline. The pattern for this unique style is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. To make the dress as pictured in the large view, for an 18 year size will require 1 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. Without bolero and sleeves 3 3/4 yards will be required. The width of the dress at

Dr. David says:

"To avoid influenza do these two things"

THERE is no use worrying every time you draw a breath for fear you will breathe in some influenza germs. Do the following two things: first protect your nose and throat; second keep your system in good condition.

"As a first precaution, I am prescribing Mistol as it protects the nose and throat against the germs of influenza. Use it every morning, and again when you come home at night. Use it freely; it will do no harm.

"Just tilt your head back and apply Mistol with the special dropper which comes with every package, until you feel it trickling down your throat. It will clear your head wonderfully, relieve any inflammation; it will help dry up a running nose. Gargle it for a sore throat or a little irritating cough.

"As a second precaution I am prescribing Nujol. It is not a laxative or cathartic but a pure, natural substance that helps your system function at all times the way nature intended it to. Like pure water, it is harmless. In no case does Nujol cause weakening of the system.

"Take it night and morning; it will keep you in first class condition. You will have a far better chance to resist 'flu' or any other diseases that are going the rounds.

"The combination treatment of Nujol and Mistol is a double safeguard against colds and influenza. Start this wise twofold precaution now. Don't delay. Put worry out of your mind. The chances are good that you will escape influenza and colds. Nujol and Mistol are on sale at all druggists."

Don't fear flu fight it!

Wash hands often with the purifying toilet soap that removes germs

What U. S. Public Health Service says:

"If a germ could talk, it would tell you that nothing pleases him more than to get a free ride from someone's soiled hands to some other person's mouth."

—U. S. Public Health Service Broadcast No. 96

KEEP flu away by fighting it, not fearing it, leading health authorities urge. Help protect yourself and your children by taking every precaution against its attack.

Always remember that hands may spread germs of other serious diseases. Note statement of the U. S. Public Health Service on the danger of hands spreading germs.

The money you handle every day—your hands—touch it to the face.

For hands pick up all sorts of germs from things you have to touch, unavoidable things that many other hands have touched before yours—door-knobs, car-straps, banisters, money, public telephones.

The Life Extension Institute has compiled seven health rules—listed below—to help protect you and your family against the spread of influenza and other serious germ diseases.

Note especially Rule No. 2 about keeping hands germ-free—one of the most important rules of all, yet so simple to carry out. No extra trouble, no extra expense. Just wash the hands oftener—always before eating—with Lifebuoy, the toilet soap that removes germs as well as dirt.

Splendid for complexions

Quite aside from its purifying action, Lifebuoy is a delightful toilet and bath soap—wonderfully cleansing, invigorating, fine for preventing odors of body and perspiration—and for keeping complexions clear, smooth and fresh.

But, best of all, Lifebuoy helps protect health. Its mild and abundant antiseptic lather removes germs as well as dirt.

Its hygienic scent says "greater protection"

Lifebuoy's reassuring, pleasantly hygienic scent, which vanishes as you rinse, tells you it gives greater protection. Yet it costs no more—probably less than the soap you now use.

You can get Lifebuoy wherever soap is sold. Start using Lifebuoy today as a common-sense health measure.

You MUST touch common objects regardless of germs

Control Of Production
Major Problem Of Era

New York (AP)—One great economic problem of this industrial era, control of production, represents a complete reversal from the problem of previous times, when economists were wont to regard wars and plagues as necessary to keep production at a point where its material requirements could be met. A chart, prepared by the Department of Commerce, shows modern trends.

While a sharp upturn in steel production during 1928 has been a sign of prosperity, an increase in bituminous coal production augurs ill for that industry, and a falling off in lumber production has been regarded as indicating improved conditions in that business.

Steel production for 1928 set a new high record at more than 59,000,000 tons. This high output represented increased requirements of American industry generally, particularly the automotive and building industries, which also set new high records. Despite the increased steel mill activity, prices of steel products strengthened.

The year in the bituminous coal industry, in contrast, was marked by unsatisfactory profit margins and numerous failures. Plans to restrict production to a point where operators might make adequate profits have attracted little or no support. The lumber industry, however, has managed cooperatively to remedy overproduction. Output during the latter months of the year fell substantially below that of the like period of 1927, and prices improved.

The separation or schism among the Quakers occurred in 1827-28 and was due to several causes. The immediate occasion was the preaching and teaching of Elias Hicks, who promulgated doctrines closely approaching the Unitarian views. Georgia Tech's Victory Due in Part to Blunder

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 2 (AP).—The golden tornado of Georgia Tech today held a claim to the nation's mythical football championship honors as an outcome of its strangely wrought 6 to 7 victory over the Golden Bears of California in the Rose Bowl New Year's day classic here.

Tech's victory was due in part at least to a spectacular blunder by Roy Riegels, center, and captain-elect of the western eleven, who in the second period ran 75 yards in the wrong direction, giving the Blue Tornado an advantage which was turned into a safety and a two point lead that won the game.

A play that has been the subject of many prurient plots and the basis of many a magazine thriller, but seldom seen on a football field, was that which Riegels made when he lost his bearings.

After his side had scored, Tech had the ball on its own 25 yard line. "Stumpy" Thomason, Tech halfback, fumbled. Riegels snatched up the ball and started for the team's goal. He progressed a few steps, then wheeled about and headed for his own goal line.

Seventy thousand football fans watched in amazement as Riegels stroked down the field.

Some of the Georgians started after Riegels. Others stopped in their tracks. Riegels had gone perhaps twenty yards toward the California goal when his teammate, Benny Lom, first to realize what was happening, started in pursuit.

Down the field raced Riegels, the white lines passing beneath his feet, his mind concentrated upon out-running the Georgia Tech team. Lom gradually overtook him. Once it looked as if Lom was going to make a flying tackle of his teammate, as he was within diving distance, but he evidently expected to turn Riegels around.

Not until Riegels reached the one-foot mark did Lom overtake him. Lom then pulled Riegels by the shoulder and motioned toward the opposite goal. Riegels stopped, and at that instant two Georgia Tech players tackled him and threw him over the goal line. The referee called the ball down at the place where Riegels had been stopped by his teammate.

Riegels was too crestfallen for words. He dropped to the ground, jerked off his headgear and gave vent to expressions of dismay.

Believe Riegels Was Groggy.

Most of the sports writers believed that Riegels, who was opposing Pund, the Georgia Tech All-American center, and who had taken a ferocious pounding on the Tech line plays, was more or less groggy when he picked up the fumbled ball.

Standing with his back almost even with the goal posts, Lom attempted to punt out of danger. It was the only thing to do, but it proved the Bears undoing, for as the sterling California halfback swung his mighty right foot, Vance Marace, Tech's outstanding tackle, crashed through the Bear line to block the punt. Stanley Barr, California halfback, fell on the oval behind the goal line after a mad scramble, and Tech had two points.

Riegels was taken out a few minutes after the safety was made, but he started again at center at the half. He displayed his worth later by blocking a Tech punt and recovering for California.

Demolished by the freak "break" the Bears fell victim to a Yellow Jacket attack in the third period. The stalwarts of California stiffened to hold in check on their own one-yard line a Tech drive, but the tornado returned with even greater fury a few plays later to storm across the westerners' goal line for a touchdown. Warner Mizell, halfback, again galloped 39 yards to plant the pigskin on California's 15-yard line and "Stumpy" Thomason, his squat running mate, packed it across. Georgia failed in the try for point.

Touchdown in the final minutes of the game was sweet fruit to California's striders, who faced a shut-out defeat, although they had out-gained their foes almost three yards to one, and outbattled them virtually throughout. Lom, who had been the backbone of the California offensive, passed with uncanny accuracy and terrific force in this last hope drive of the Bears that carried 80 yards.

Two passes to Captain Irvine Phillips, on one of which the star end scored, and one to Lee Eison, slippery quarterback, accounted for most of the 80 yards advance.

Darr's lofty kick for the extra point was successful.

Tech had a fast-charging, hard-hitting forward line—one of the most consistent forward walls that ever has performed in a Rose Bowl classic.

Declares Yanks Will Get Stiff Tussle in 1929

Chicago, Jan. 2 (AP).—The American League pennant race for 1929 will not be a one-rim circus with Miller Huggins the ringmaster and the New York Yankees the only actors, President E. S. Barnard predicts.

Weaker clubs have strengthened their forces immeasurably, Barnard said, and some, especially St. Louis and Detroit, are certain to give the rampant Yanks a hard tussle for the bunting.

"There is no doubt of some of the weaker clubs having strengthened materially in their efforts to give the Yankees more of a battle than they did in 1928," Barnard said.

"Detroit will take the field with a new manager, Stanley Harris, who gave Washington two pennants and who is expected to give Detroit a winner. The acquisition of Pitcher Uble from Cleveland and other changes makes the Tigers contenders.

"St. Louis, the sensation of the 1928 race, has added several players who are expected to make the Browns stronger. Washington brings back Walter Johnson, the greatest pitcher in the history of the American League, as manager, and there is no doubt of his enjoying the confidence of his employers, players and the public. Washington also has added many star minor league players while the trade with Boston, whereby Buddy Myer, a third sacker of great ability, returns to the Nationals, is expected to be beneficial.

Cleveland will take the field with a revamped infield while two new outfielders may be found in Indian territory. The new owners of the Indians have shown their willingness to bid for star minor league players, and such spirit should inspire the team.

"Chicago has expended money very wisely in its preparation for the 1929 campaign, while the deals made by Boston are expected to bring about a decided improvement. Philadelphia has not made any radical changes, the reason probably being that Connie Mack believes the team that all but won the 1928 pennant and

Y's Men Nose Out Chandlers

Schaeffer For the Winners Was the Outstanding Scorer With 15 Points—Chandlers Led at Mid-Time, 19 to 11.

After letting up on their swift pace which they set throughout the first half, the Chandlers were unable to display their former brand of basketball in the last quarter, which resulted in a 21 to 29 victory for the undefeated Y's Men at the "Y" courts Tuesday night. The Chandlers held the lead up until the last few minutes of the third quarter. In the last session the score changed its possession many times and finally ended up in the Y's Men's possession.

In the first half the Y's Men were completely outplayed. The Chandlers made shot after shot while the Y's Men missed. At the end of the first quarter the Chandlers had a five-point lead, the score being 8 to 3 in their favor. In the second quarter the Chandlers began to let up but still they managed to keep in the lead. McLane collected five of the Y's Men eight points in the second quarter. "Pop" Hines ended things up for the half by making a pretty one handed shot from the right side of the court. The score was now 14 to 11 in favor of the Chandlers.

In the third quarter the Chandlers let up on their older opponents and by the time the end of the period came around the Y's Men had jumped in the lead, 22 to 19. From then on the score swung back and forth and Fleming's foul in the last 25 seconds won the game for the Y's Men, 31 to 20.

Schaeffer Here Saturday.

The Chandlers will try to get back on the winning road Saturday night when they meet the celebrated Schenectady Presbyterians, champions of the upstate "Senior Sunday School League," at the local "Y." The Kingston team, that knocked off 15 straight wins, then fell twice in succession, once before Port Chester and then the Y's Men, is anxious to get another start and will fight to the last second in an effort to beat the Schenectady team.

This battle will be preceded by a matchup between the Y's Men and Fleischmanns. This promise to hold all the qualities of a feature attraction.

SAUGERTIES DEFEATS ROSENDALE QUINTET

In a hard and roughly fought battle the Saugerties Community quintet defeated Rosendale at that place Saturday night, 45-25. The score was deadlocked at 7 points at the end of the first quarter, but the Saugerties boys got a start in the second quarter and held sway for the remainder of the tilt. Hyman with 16 points did the best scoring for the Saugerties team. Jeghers scored 11 markers for Rosendale, which was the best score on that team's list.

Boxer Dead When Count Is Ended

Craig, Col., Jan. 2 (AP).—Dick Williams of Meeker, Col., a lightweight boxer, died in the ring here last night during his fight with "Wild Bill" Marks of Craig, Col. Cause of his death, which came during the third round in the feature event of an American Legion card, was not determined.

Williams dropped following a blow delivered by Marks, and was dead when the count was finished. He did not move after striking the canvas.

ADMITS CLIMATE MADE HIS TEAM

Coach "Pop" Warner Believes in Tricky Plays.

When talking about his great Stanford football eleven which overwhelmed the Army, its veteran coach, Glen Warner, gives as much credit to the California climate as to the amazing assortment of trick plays which dazzled the thousands at the Yankee stadium, including the Cadets.

"Yes," said the kindly and contemplative "Pop," while in New York, "there are some big, strong boys out there. The material is good and it's well distributed among the leading schools. But except for Artman, the 232 pound tackle, and Fleischhacker, the 230 pound quarter back, we did not outweight the Army much, if any. Those two men, incidentally, would be better football players, if they lost some of that weight.

"I do think, though, that the Far West has an advantage in maturity that is probably due to climatic conditions. I have an idea a boy of twenty from out there is as mature as a boy of twenty-one here in the East.

"Another thing is that while not all of our players are descended from men who settled in the West quite a few of them are and they have the same fighting adventurous spirit."

Even in the development of the open games, the vivid series of thrusts and jabs so well exemplified by the Stanford team, the climate of California has played a big part. Warner believes. Warner also thinks the East has been handicapped by rain and muddy fields.

"When I was coaching at Pittsburgh," he said, "I knew what it was to work up a lot of tricky plays with the ball sometimes going through three or four pairs of hands behind the line, only to strike a rainy day and a drenched field and not be able to use them at all. That probably has something to do with the fact that the East has remained somewhat conservative in its football and still is leaning pretty heavily on the old variety.

"Now the kind of offensive that I like, and a kind I have had a good opportunity to develop on the dry, fast fields of the Far West, is the sort that gains ground steadily and consistently by a series of varied and tricky thrusts. That type of play wears down your opponent and is pretty likely to have a demoralizing effect."

Hubbell Made Good

Hubbell, the Texas rookie pitcher, whom McGraw called to the trenches in midseason in 1928, pitched remarkable ball from his first to his last game. He took his regular turn in every crucial series when the pennant hung in the balance. McGraw took nine young pitchers to the training camp last spring, all promising and many costly ones in the lot, but not one earned a regular berth. At last, in desperation he called Hubbell from Beaumont and the youngster pitched phenomenal ball. It is confidently expected that he will be a star next year.

Notre Dame to Have New Stadium Seating 60,000

A stadium seating 60,000 is expected to be completed before Notre Dame's 1929 football season opens. Coach Knute K. Rockne announced at a chamber of commerce meeting at South Bend.

"It always has been my intention to bring the best teams that I could to South Bend," Rockne said. "I given a stadium, I will bring the best of the nation's eleven here."

Rockne said this year's Notre Dame eleven is one of the most courageous in the school's history.

Carpino and Zinna Training Hard

The ten-round mixup between Johnny Carpino and Nick Zinna, both Kingston boys, which is scheduled to feature the card of National Guard bouts at the armory on Friday night, January 11, promises to be one of the most hectic fist arguments ever staged in this city.

The anxiety of both boys to take the bacon has reached a feverish point and they are earnestly training for battle. Carpino is getting his punching rods, that contain plenty of dynamite, into proper working order for a knockout. This is the factor which many claim will be Carpino's big chance for a win. Johnny is a strong boy, too, and can shake off a punch that would finish some of the ordinary Guard battlers.

Nick Zinna sticks to his shiftiness and no doubt will use this method in an endeavor to overcome his rugged opponent. This boy, who has lived in Kingston but a short time, has not lost a fight since he entered the National Guard ranks under the banner of the McCabe-Conway stable. He has had about six scraps, including one at the 22nd Engineers, New York city. Zinna is known as a heavy hitter, but few contend that he will win by the easy route.

Tickets for the fights may be had at the armory from a close-up position are advised to reserve their places early as one of the biggest fight attendances of the season is expected at the bouts of Friday, January 11.

Young Stribling Kayos League

Kansas City, Jan. 2 (AP).—W. L. (Young) Stribling, who gets his big chance in Florida next month against Jack Sharkey in a Rickard elimination contest, needed only a couple of minutes last night to dispose of Jack League, Texas boxer, in the heavy-weight's last bout before the Miami fight.

Despite the brevity of the fight there were three knockdowns in one of which Stribling was on the receiving end. Stribling blocked one of League's right-handed punches and was down for the count of four, but returned to dispose of his opponent quickly with a knockdown, followed by the knockout.

The fight was said to be Stribling's 11thth knockout victory in 240 starts. His weight was announced at 188 pounds, which his father and manager said was the heaviest at which his son ever had fought.

Boxing Program In 1929 Promises Plenty of Thrills

New York, Jan. 2 (AP).—There's no red light on the track today for the 1929 fistc limited, chugging out of the yards with Tex Rickard, the master engineer, at the throttle, headed for routine scraps at new champions, new records, monster stakes, thrills, and halting only on signal at upsets.

Aboard the limited are most of the old favorites, the same passengers who made the trip last year, clinging tight to the choice seats. Back in the day coaches ride the unknowns and rounders who may be perched right up with the engineer before the jolting passage is over.

A few of the familiar faces are missing as the 365-day journey gets under way. The finest seat in the heavyweight compartments, filled to perfection last year by the scholarly person of Gene Tunney, is vacant, probably for the entire trip, while Jack Dempsey stands aloof from the shop-worn squabblers who seek the place. No one sits in the title seats among the bantamweights and flyweights and others who once sat far forward are now pushed back almost to the observation platform.

The major worry of the engineer is to fill that vacant heavyweight throne. The tickets of Billy Stripling, clouting Georgian, and Jack Sharkey, the silent sailorman from Boston, are punched as far as Miami Beach, Fla. One of them must get off the train there after the first battle of Tex's elimination series, scheduled now for February 27.

When that match is over, Tex believes that he will have left the ingredients for a title battle to be staged some time in September in New York.

The other half, he hopes, will be the former champion, Jack Dempsey, back to the familiar battleground for the second attempt to win back the crown he lost to Tunney in 1926. If Dempsey fails to come back, although every indication is that he will, Paulino Uzcudun, the Spaniard, may get the fall assignment.

Tommy Loughran, the light heavyweight king, may give up his title and win a place in the finals. There is the aged Akronite, K. O. Christner, who knocked out Knute Hansen, and boxes Sharkey here January 25, to be considered.

Schaaf, Con O'Kelly, Joe Sekyra and Max Schmelling, the German, are fast-stepping youngsters, but still a year or so away.

There will be many feuds, spectacular battles, and possibly an entirely new champion in lineup among the remainder of Rickard's passengers before another new year rolls around.

If Loughran withdraws from the light heavyweight shelling, the battling in that division will be left to Jimmy Slattery, the Buffalo challenger, Leo Lonski, of Aberdeen, Wash., and possibly Mickey Walker, middleweight king fast outgrowing his class for the second time. James J. Braddock, New Jersey youngster, who snuffed the sensation spark out of Tuffy Griffiths, is another formidable contender.

Walker's weight troubles are further complicated by the presence of Ace Hudkins, Rene De Vos, George Courtney and Dave Shade, all crack challengers in his division.

Joe Dundee, champion among the welterweights, and Andre Routis, new king of the feathers, face the toughest schedules. If the Baltimore Italian gets past Hudkins, who thinks he can still make the 147-pound limit, Young Jack Thompson, who knocked Joe out in a non-title fight, and Jackie Fields, who trimmed Thompson, will be waiting.

Routis faces tarts in Tony Canzoneri, the ex-champion, Benny Bas, of Philadelphia, and Honeyboy Finnegan, of Boston.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight titleholder, seems most secure among the champions, with Ray Miller, of Chicago, his foremost rival. Baby-face Jimmy McLarnin is outgrowing the division.

If Panama Al Brown, elongated Negro, and Bushy Graham, of Utica, N. Y., clash during the coming year, the winner probably will be accepted as the bantamweight champion, a title vacated by Charley Phil Rosenberg years ago.

A flyweight tournament to pick Fidel Labarba's successor has been arranged here between Izzy Schwartz, recognized in New York as the 112-pound champion, Frankie Genaro, the National Boxing Association titleholder, and two foreign champions, Johnny Hill, of England, and Spider Fladner, of France.

Seek Slayer of Kidnaped Girl

Salt Lake City, Jan. 2 (AP).—The hat, shoes and zephyr worn by June Nelson, 12, who was kidnaped and slain New Year's eve, were the objects of an extensive search here today as a possible link to the identity of the murderer, who attacked the girl before strangling her to death. Scores of police and deputies continued the hunt for the slayer.

Those articles were missing when the body of the school girl was found yesterday partly submerged in a shallow canal on the outskirts of the city.

A pair of child's gloves found in a stolen automobile parked near a bridge crossing the canal could not be identified by Mrs. Charles H. Nelson as those of her daughter, despite the fact that it was believed June's kidnaper used the car in carrying the girl to the spot. The car was returned to its owner, who had reported its theft Monday night, a short time before the kidnaping.

Four suspects, including an ex-convict who had served terms for attacking girls in this vicinity, were questioned at police headquarters yesterday, but all were released when officers expressed the belief that the men knew nothing of the crime.

Authorities thought the slayer, who kidnaped the girl while she was returning from her father's confectionery store to her home less than a half block away, was known by the victim and that he killed her to escape detection. Absence of footprints in snow along the bank of the canal led to the belief that the slayer girl had been hurried from a car as it sped across the bridge.

Although the abduction occurred in a thickly populated section early Monday evening there were no witnesses to it. A light snowfall failed to reveal any signs of a struggle.

Myron T. Herrick 32,000 Seek Work Is Seriously Ill At Ford Co. Plant

Cleveland, Jan. 2 (AP).—The condition of Myron T. Herrick, American Ambassador to France, who has been ill at his estate here, took a sudden turn for the worse early today, but his condition is not considered critical, it was announced by his son, Myrmel Herrick.

It was explained that although Herrick's condition was not considered serious at this time, it was thought best to call in Dr. John Phillips, his personal physician. Dr. Phillips took a nurse and two tanks of oxygen to the Herrick estate at Gates Mills in order to be prepared for any emergency, as the Herrick home is a considerable distance from the city.

Later it was announced that Mr. Herrick was resting easily. The fever had abated, Dr. Phillips said. The illness was described as asthmatic influenza.

The veteran diplomat, who is 74, has been ill with bronchitis for the past ten days. He was seriously ill a year and a half ago, but gradually recovered after an operation and resumed his post in Paris. He returned to Cleveland a few months ago.

SEVEN TRAMPS SENTENCED TO ALBANY PENITENTIARY.

Tramps have become so numerous in Catskill that they are being rounded up by the local police. Monday Police Justice Paul R. Morrison sent seven of the highway sailors to Albany Penitentiary, each to serve 93 days. They claimed to be iron workers seeking a job on the new town iron bridge being erected at Catskill and after being given breakfast and supper for two days and lodging for two nights refused to leave town, hanging around the West Shore Railroad station in the village. The ones sentenced gave their names as follows:

Harry Murray, 40 years old, of New York city, no employment for six weeks; John Robinson, 38, of Albany, out of work for one month; Roy Burton, 32, of Kingston, no work for six months; Thomas Flynn, 44, no home, out of employment for five months; George Hayes, 29, no home, no work for six weeks; John O'Brien, 48, no home, had not worked for three months; John McGlynn, no home, out of employment for 45 days.

3 Girl Students Burned to Death

Detroit, Jan. 2 (AP).—Milling about the employment office of the Ford Company at Fordson, a crowd estimated by officials of the company at 22,000 men today responded to the announcement of the company that 30,000 additional men will be employed.

The employment office remained closed until guards could form the men into a semblance of a line.

Many of those outside the small building had stood all night in the snow. By 4 a. m. the number was estimated at 5,000.

Employment officials of the company have announced that from 500 to 600 men will be added to the plant's roster daily until the 30,000 have been added. More than that cannot be hired daily, they said, because of details of employment.

The initial announcement of the company said the 30,000 men will have been hired by March 1 to enable the operation of the plant six days a week while maintaining the Ford schedule of a five-day week for employees.
